Foreword

Sammy Saint was literally amazed when he saw how much the population of Saintville had increased. Through satirical artwork the 60 Review has depicted SMHS's response to this growth: biology classes competing with the clatter of pots and pans in the cafeteria, senior problems classes in the girls' gym, math classes sandwiched between the wood shops, an influx of new teachers. Campus scenes relating the story of high school life conduct the viewer on an inexpensive tour of the events that have made the past year memorable, bringing him to the climax — graduation for the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Sixty.

If at any time during the school year one was called into the guidance office or needed counseling, any one of these five patient people were there to assist. Their work led them to come into contact with all the students in the school. They helped select programs and changes, and in choosing the right courses for everyone they had a never-ending job.

Cafeteria

Because of the new split lunch hour, the cafeteria staff was constantly busy trying to cope with the additional conflict of more mouths to feed. The freshmen and sophomores were first to the victuals while the juniors and seniors starved through their 4th period classes.

Bus

Whether there was a game, convention, or a jaunt to and from school, the bus drivers were available. Under the special strain of additional passengers they did their best to solve the transportation problems.

Maintenance

The campus handymen, the maintenance, also encountered an extra workload this year with the new math building and the second parking lot. Besides their school time duties they assisted at dances and other school activities.

The Fall Board of Control worked diligently to make the semester an active one. The Board was faced with many problems resulting from the rapid growth of our school population. They supervised student body elections, and arranged for next year's educational assemblies. A highlight of of the board's term was the homecoming activities.

Activities of the Spring Board of Control centered around the planning of an Inter-school Council meeting—including discussion groups, general assembly, and dance—and the introduction of a new activity, a car show for Student Body participants. The Board also revised voting procedures and placed poster regulations in the constitutional by-laws.

Commissioners

Justice Committee

The Justice Committee, Knights, and Squires are the student body's justice organizations.

The Knights and Squires patrolled the campus, kept the cafeteria lines in order, and supervised the flocks of students at programs and rallies. The Squires is the "baby brother" organization of the Knights.

The Justice Committee was elected by the Delegate Assembly for one semester. It was by this committee that offenders were punished.

Delegate Assembly in Action

The Delegate Assembly was the Congress of SMUHS. Members were elected from each social studies class, and the Board of Control also attended the meetings. At the meetings all types of school problems were brought up and discussed. Then the members reported back to their respective classes to tell the students what was discussed and sometimes to get votes. The Delegate Assembly meetings were supervised by Mr. Graham and were run by the Student Body President with the aid of the Parliamentarian.

Latin Club

Latin Club — The Latin Club was eligible to students taking the Latin language. First year Latin students were called Plebians, and students of second year Latin were called Patricians. However, students who already have completed one of two years of Latin were eligible. The Club held two main annual events, the Roman Banquet and the Latin Club Convention, to provide a lighter side to the subject. The advisor was Mrs. Youtz.

Spanish Club

Spanish Club — The Spanish Club was for the purpose of encouraging the study of Spanish culture through an understanding of the language. It was open to second year Spanish students. The chief affair of the year was the Piñata Party, at which the members were given an insight to the Spanish culture. Mr. Malovic was the advisor.

French Club

French Club — The French Club, available to French students, is one of the younger organizations of SMUHS. Like the other language clubs, it was formed as an incentive for the students to strive for better understanding of the language.

Girls' League

Fall

JONI GRAY
President

Upon entering SMUHS each girl automatically becomes a member of the Girls' League, and points may be earned by contributing extra services. Membership in the 300-600-1000 Clubs depends on the number of points accumulated.

During the fall the Girls' League sponsored the Hi-Jinx, the Corrigan Dance, and the Fall Assembly. Activities coordinated by the club during spring semester were the Roaring Twenties Party, the May Queen Dance, and the Spring Assembly. The League earned the money to sponsor these activities.

Review

Giving SMUHS students a complete and far-reaching yearbook for 1960 was the goal of this year's staff. Extra pages, new features, and color were a few of the additions making the 60 Review a new and different book.

MR. KINKADE
Advisor

The purpose of the JSA is to promote student interest in good government, and it is one of the most active clubs in school. Students interested in government, with a "C" average, are qualified for membership. The club traveled this year to Santa Barbara for its first Regional Convention. Other memorable Regionals were held at San Marino and at the beautiful Disneyland Hotel. Sacramento and Fresno were the scenes for this year's State Conventions, where Saintland was represented in State offices. Other activities this year were local legislative meetings, panels on various subjects, and the day our members took over the city. Two big all-school dances, the Candy Cane Ball and the Sweethearts' Ball, were sponsored by the JSA. Mr. Hodges and Mr. Kinkade guided the club through the past year.

Under the direction of Mr. Baldwin, the Saint's Band spent a very busy year. The band was always on hand to add spark to the football and basketball games, and to entertain us during half-times. On March 10th the music enthusiasts traveled to San Luis to participate in the Music Festival, where they received an award. A concert with the Chorus and Glee was held on March 25 for the public. As a highlight to the beneficial year, the band ordered new uniforms.

Hi Jinx

Like, tune up the stereo for the jive on the Jinx in the Vitamin Village, Wednesday at 6:00 on your Micky Mouse, the 7th of October. Most of us left the caves early, made with the beatnik cover, and stabled our irons outside the mess hall. All of us really made with the vitamins and cooled it later, with the beat, bongos, and skits. Naturally the babes dragged their handcuffs along, which was way out, but we kept the scene swinging. Before canning this lip we'd better clue you that the new dames were installed also! If you weren't tuned in this time, you'd better make the scene next. Like, it was strictly off the wall!

Jr. Scandals

March 18 the Junior Class went Hollywood with fashion shows, top recording artists, and a chorus of night-club scenes reverting to the Hollywood of the 20's. M.C. Cliff Deveney (left) kept the show rolling while advisors Ward Kinkade and Wes Hodges assisted.

Cheerleaders and Songleaders

Football cheerleaders Sherry Curnutt, Shirley Adams and Sharon Forrest, eager for victories, boosted Saintville spirit to action. They and the song leaders cheered, faithfully decorated the field for games and helped prepare rallies.

Football

The precision routines of songleaders Lois Cossa, Diane Correll, Lynda Conrad, Sheryl Williams, and Dottie Sawyers spurred Saint spirit during the '59 football season. Closely with the cheerleaders and Pep Club, the petite five introduced new routines assisted by Addie Lucero, Commissioner of Rallies.

Back for her second season, perky Gretchen Stoskopf (right), familiar to Saint fans as a basketball cheerleader in '58, joins with Joyce Hoover, a new Saint recruit, to form the cheerleader section for 1959's basketball at SMHS. The twosome and Rallies Organizer, Joni Gray, worked in close harmony with the songleaders to present a series of well-planned rallies for the season.

Basketball

Basketball songleaders Linda Spain, Kay Nichols, Colleen Nunez, Margie Bickmore, and Linda Davis were valuable assets in spurring the Saints team into nine out of ten league victories. In striking outfits of white over red they presented a pleasing and enthusiastic backing for Gretchen and Joyce.

Pep Club

PEP CLUB

An active pep club ardently supported the Saints football and basketball games. The purchase of red pep club caps increased enthusiasm and was a step toward more unified cheering at S.M.H.S. athletic events.

Against a background of lavendar and silver, the Girls' League presented their Cinderella Corrigan honoring King Rudy Estrada, chosen among the girl students. Preceding the occasion was a week of sponsored events: Blue Day, Mad Plaids, Clashing Colors, Lavendar and White, Dress Up Day.

For collecting the names of more contributors to the food basket fund, Claudine Crossman was given the Cinderella title and the honor of crowning Rudy.

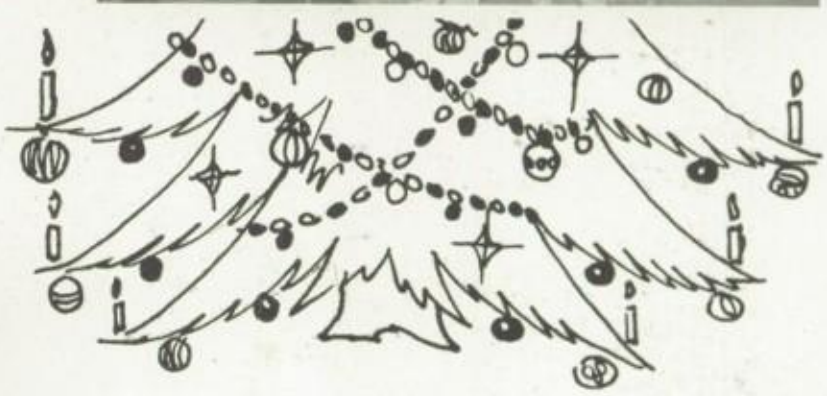
Christmas Program

Mrs. Priscilla Del Mastro guided our choral music groups in their annual Christmas program, "Around the Christmas Tree." Mixed Chorus, Girls' Glee, and the Ensembles introduced carols from many lands including an interesting Swedish carol-dance.

Candy Cane Ball

Merrymakers at the ball.

Time out for refreshments.



On December 12 the Junior Statesmen presented their annual Candy Cane Ball. After extensive planning and decorating by several committees an atmosphere of Christmas was created. The dance stimulated that "once a year spirit." The evening was climaxed with the orchestra and dancers alike singing traditional carols.

Queens

F.F.A. Queen

Brunette, brown-eyed, sophomore Lea Ciavarelli captured 1960 FFA Queen honors. Lea collected the highest number of pennies to win her title; each penny counted as one vote. At the FFA Dance, Carl Domingos had the honor in crowning ceremonies for Lea. The money collected by the queen and her attendants went to the Crippled Children's Fund.

May Queen

Charming, brunette beauty Cathy De Gasparis won campus fame as the 1960 May Queen. Cathy was crowned with a tiara of rhinestones, a gift from her court, by senior class president Gerald Vinson; her throne was a cascade of paper pink. Cathy's dress was white lace over taffeta, accented with a bouquet of pink roses and white carnations. The 1960 Queen's activities included Girls' League President, Commissioner of Organizations, and Review staff Editor of Organizations.

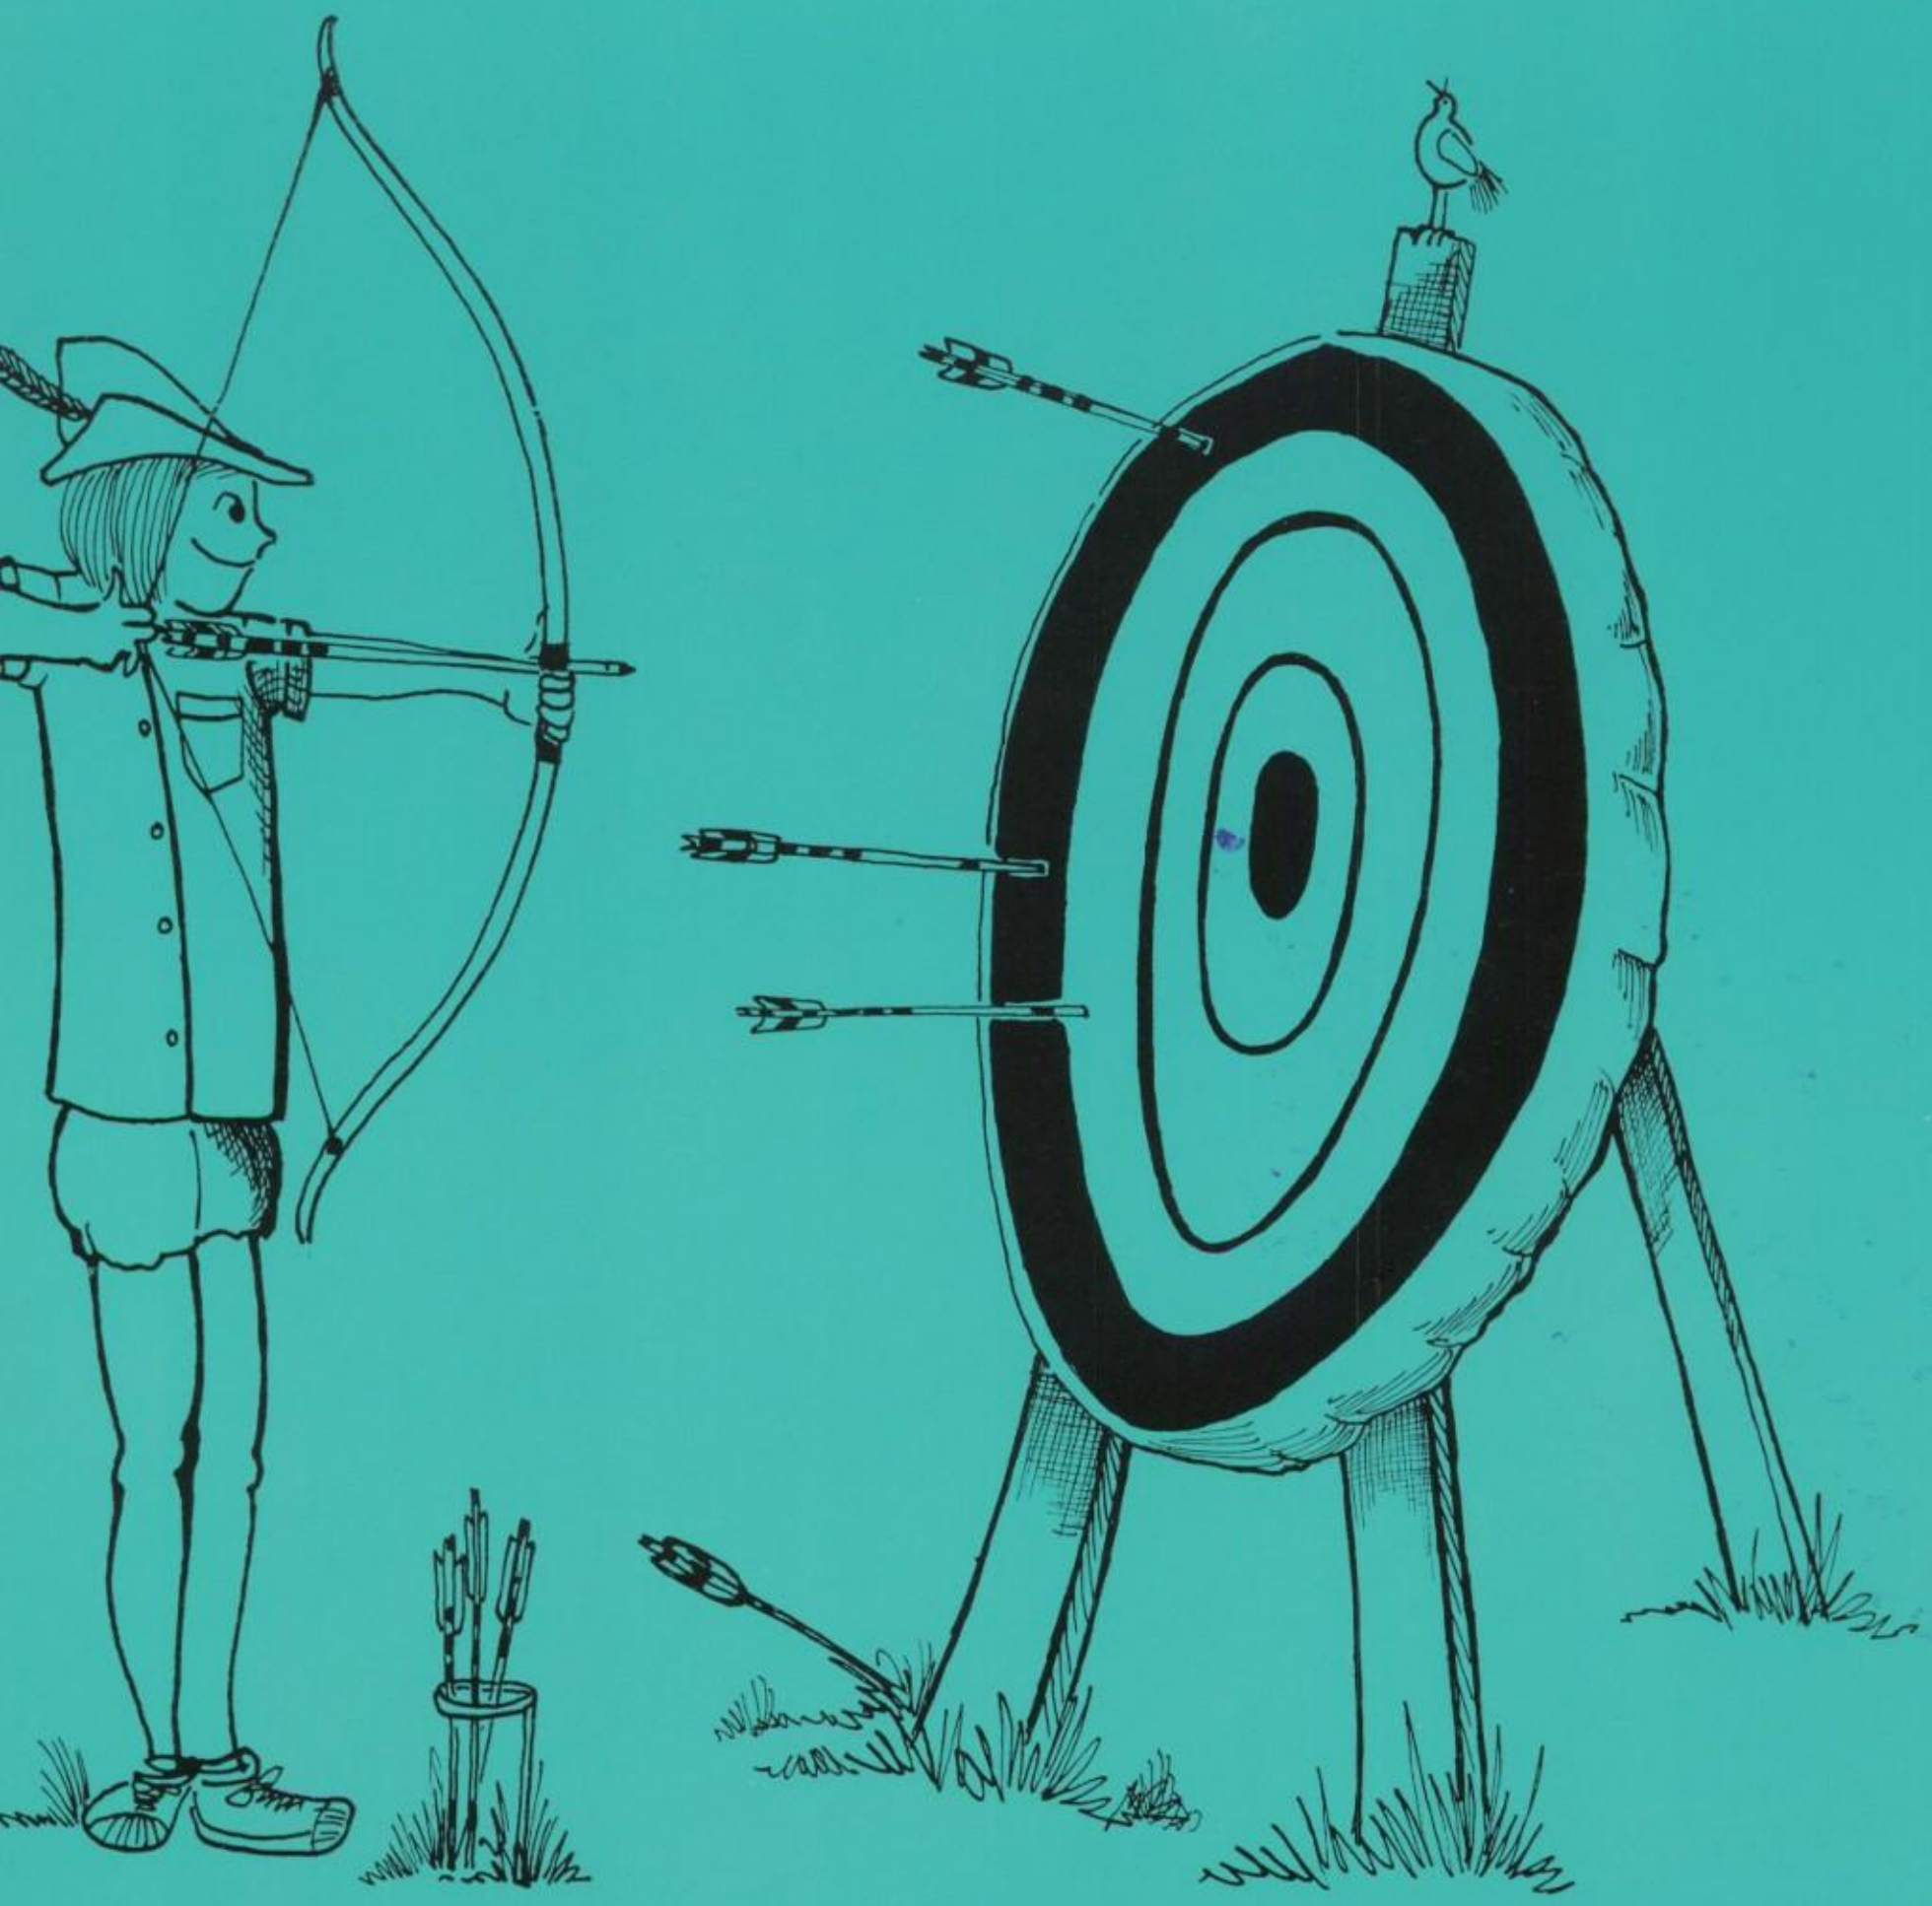
GIRLS SPORTS



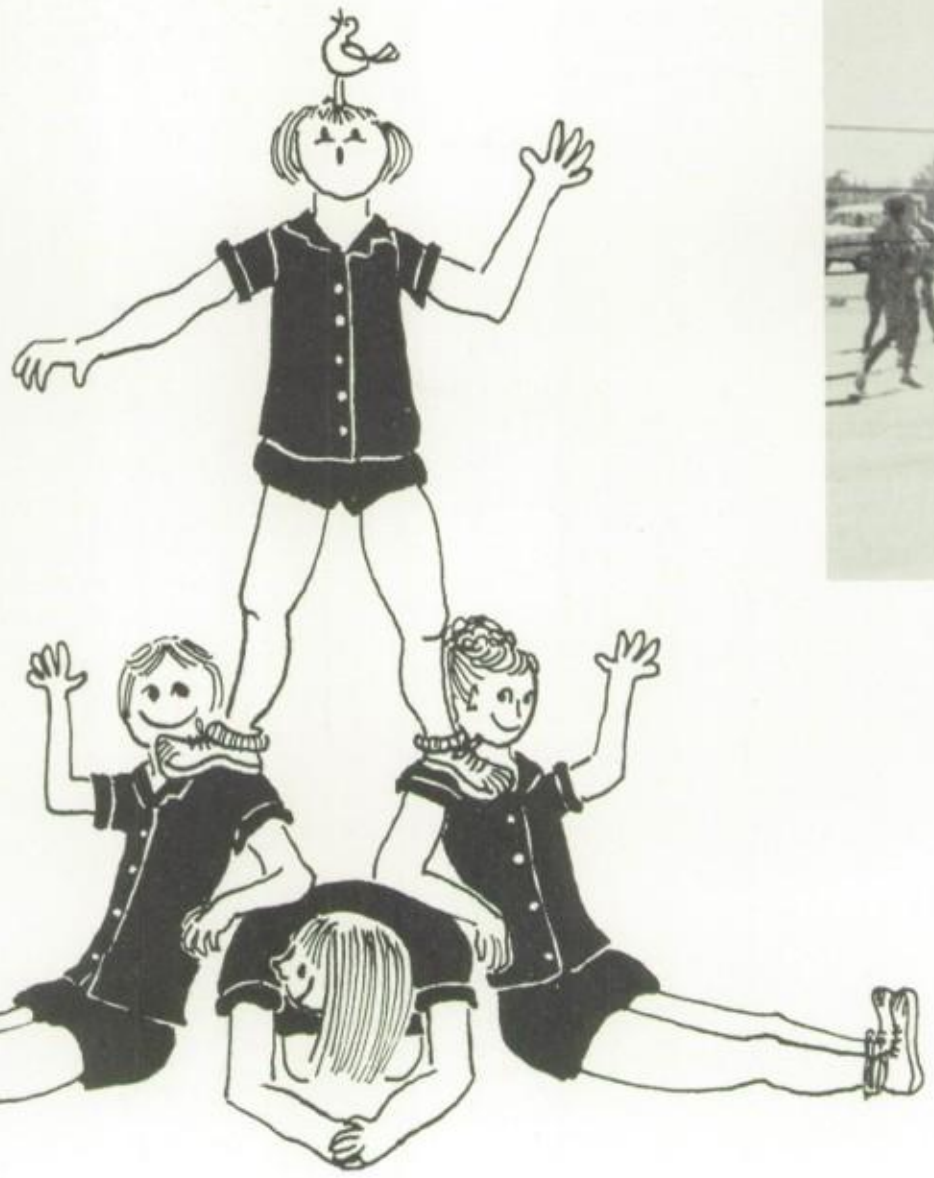
P. E.

How athletic can we get! We have to admit that despite aching muscles and creaking joints, we had a lot of fun and exercise.

One, two, three, ouch!

Set it up.

Is this football?

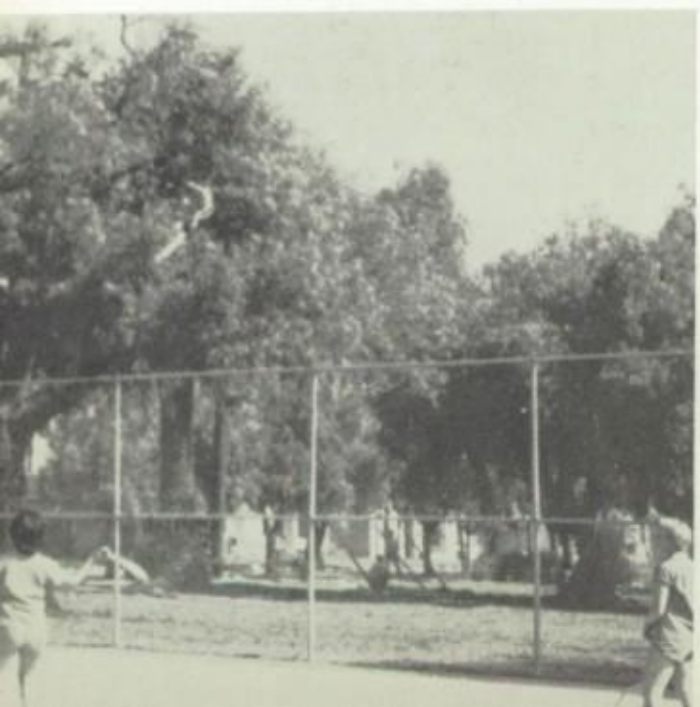


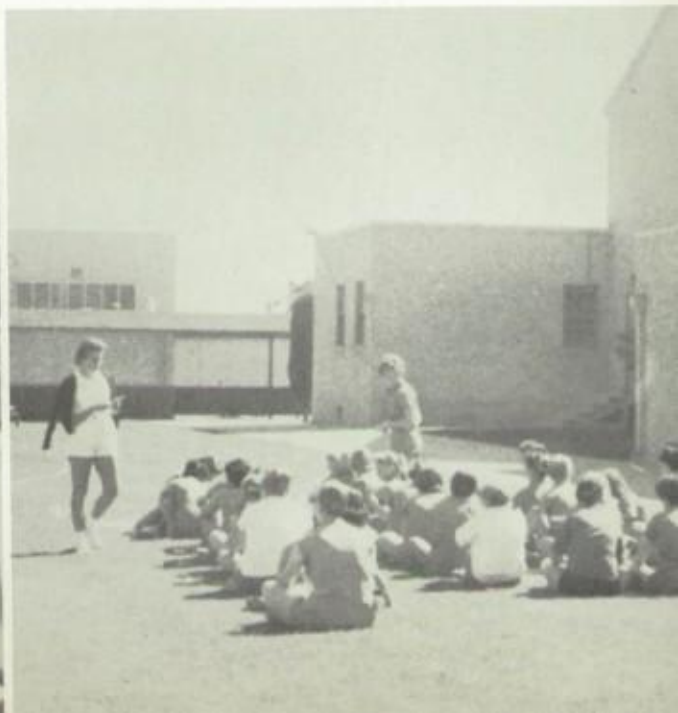
Where is the net?

Ready, shoot.

Hey, the net is behind you!

Everybody here?





The "volley" of fun.

Time in between for relaxation.

Getting ready for shooting.

Last minute instructions.

What, no points?

The girls' physical education, this year, plunged into an extensive and quite varied social and athletic program. Included were trampoline, modern dance, folk dance, co-ed social dance, swimming, softball, hockey, tumbling, basketball, and recreational games. The girls' P.E. teachers aimed to promote the enjoyment of these various activities and to provide leadership opportunities.

Where did that arrow go?

Here, somebody, catch!

Jump higher, but please don't hit the ceiling.

Give it a little more umph!

Keep trying.

G.A.A.

This year's advisor of the G.A.A. was Miss McMichael who engaged the members in various sports activities. The aim of the club was to further interest in athletics, to foster a spirit of loyalty and cooperation, and to promote social and physical efficiency. Highlighting their athletic activities was the G.A.A. interschool play day held in San Luis Obispo.

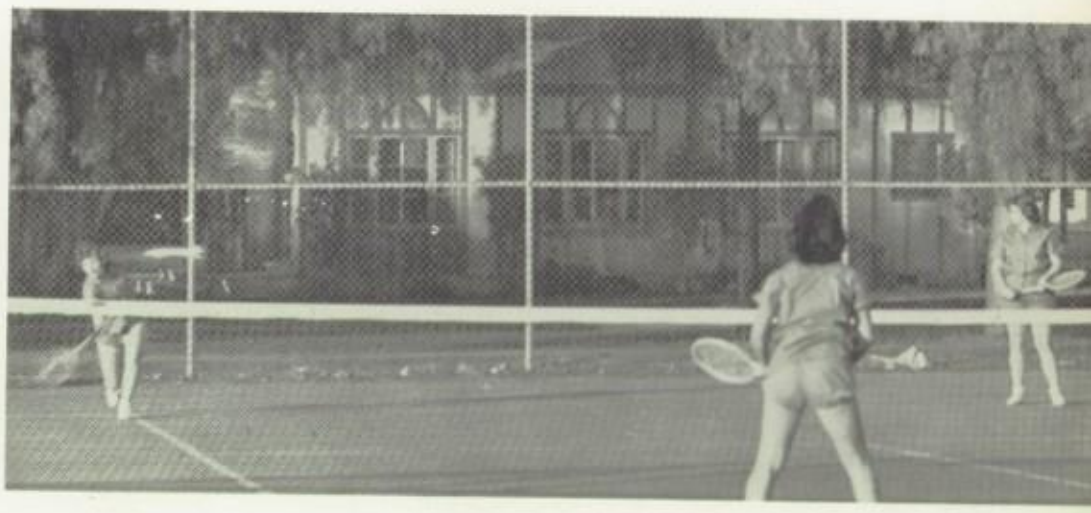
Tennis Club

At the beginning of the year there were twenty members in the Tennis Club, but through competition the membership was decreased to twelve. The club, under the supervision of Miss Hickey, was a part of the girls' after school activities. The purpose of the club was to give girls skilled and interested in tennis a chance to improve their skills and to compete with each other.

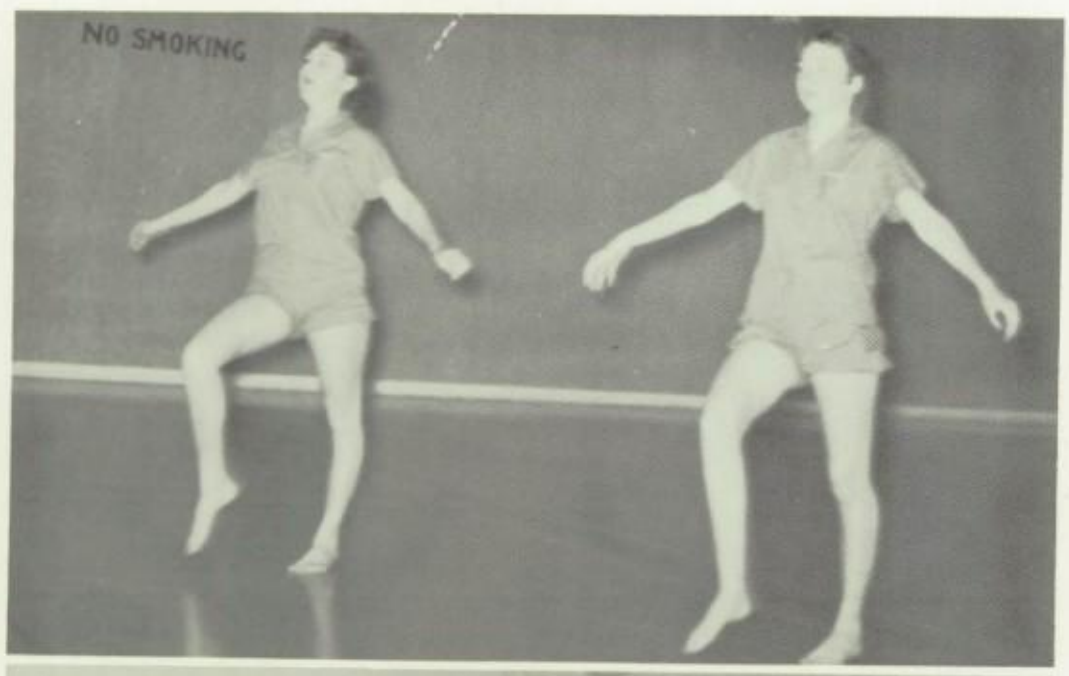
Come on Mary, get it over!

Hey, who stole my eyeglasses?



One must always be ready.

Modern Dance



As a part of G.A.A. activity, Modern Dance was in full swing two weeks after school started. It gave participants a chance to express their feelings and reactions to music.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Coker, the techniques of body movements were learned; methods of varying dance patterns were studied; use of elevation, change of directions, use of tempo change, and use of area were also integral parts of the activity. Later in the year these techniques were applied in the creation of dance compositions.

Nineteen sixty was a good year for SMUHS golfers. As another much overlooked sport around campus, golf was practiced arduously by the team at the country green. They won meets and, coached by Pinky Bebernes, gained stature in the world of SMUHS sports.

Tennis Team

This year the tennis team came forward as one of the bright spots in boys' athletics. Coach Warffuel was instrumental in placing the predominantly junior racket men in game prominence. It was emphasized that a need for more tennis courts existed since playing and training was hampered by the lack of space.

Wrestling Team

SMUHS wrestlers wound up a successful year in the mat game with new emphasis in the sport and wins to their credit. Under Coach Victor training was made regular and with continued effort the wrestling team should become a more prominent aspect of SMUHS athletic activity.

Coach Don Wilson

This year's Varsity team made up for their lack of experience with their enthusiasm and desire to win. Coach Wilson did an excellent job in molding his young athletes into a smooth - working unit. Next year's Varsity team will be made up primarily of the same players who represented the Saints so successfully in the San Luis Obispo League.

Saint Baseballers in action!

Slug it, Kido!

J.V. Baseball

Saintlets baseballers, also, were fired with enthusiasm and winning plays. Their agility on the diamond this year should pay big dividends for SMHS ball fans in '61.

Coach Omer Meeker.

Fall

The freshman class launched a very successful high school career under the leadership of the fall board. Guided by advisor Ivan Rasmussen, the class was the first in SMHS history to print programs for the home basketball games. Collecting of class dues was another project undertaken. Pooling their efforts they were able to capture the homecoming Queen crown with Joan Belier and gained more recognition when Claudine Crossman was named Corrigan Princess.

The spring semester proved to be an equally active time for the freshman class and another board of eager freshmen ventured to gain added triumphs. Among the successful events sponsored were a class dance, a fun-filled swim party and a delicious barbeque. All in all the freshmen constituted a strong accent on school spirit.

Fall

The fall sophomore officers and council guided the class through a very successful semester. Their abilities were put to work on the dance for sophomores only and on the sponsoring of an after game dance. The sophomore class enthusiastically supported their officers, and together they were able to place a sophomore in the FFA Queen title.

Spring

The spring sophomore officers and council were active and enthusiastic in their desire to push the position of the sophomore class upward. In the spring semester a dance for sophomores only was again held and a campaign to increase the treasury was launched. If their efforts as a class is any measure of success, this class should prove even more successful after graduation.

Spring

Reaping the fruits of the efforts of both fall and spring junior councils, the junior class staged a very successful Junior Scandals during the spring semester. Other activities of the class included the Junior-Senior Prom and a class barbecue.

The junior class was perhaps the busiest class during the fall semester. Much of the planning of the Junior Scandals was done by the council along with the selection of rings and sweaters. The class also sponsored an all-school dance.

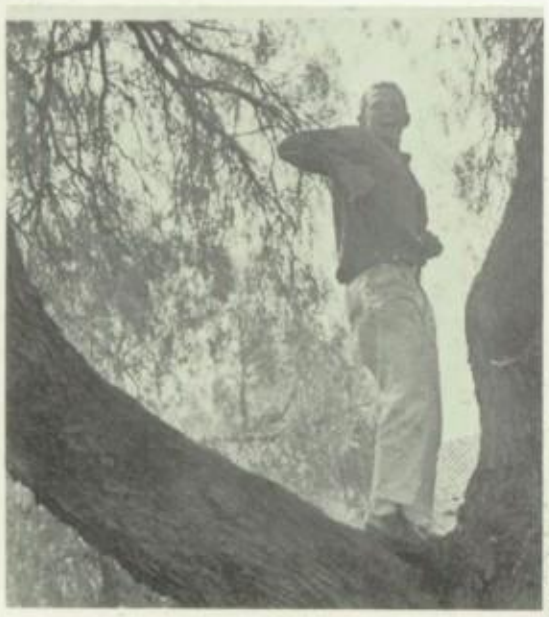
Juniors On Campus

Man, these fleas will do wonders!



Here comes Peter Cottontail?

But Brutus, I didn't know!

Road side.

Oh! Daddy!

Hey you guys, whose side are you on anyway?

Yeh, I only got grounded for a week!

What time can I pick you up?

The morning after the night before.

The Class of 1960 came in as naive but enthusiastic freshmen. Determined to be the best class ever, they set out to do great things. Making money was their first project. This was accomplished through numerous cake sales, after-game dances, and concessions.

When they were sophomores, more money making activities were sponsored. In case you are thinking they were only interested in making money, you're wrong. They needed the money for the terrific Junior Scandals staged in their junior year, and a great amount of money was needed for the lavish Junior-Senior Prom in May of that year.

But when they were sophomores and juniors, they not only accomplished many enterprising tasks; they learned the meaning of study, citizenship, and responsibility. They were also faced with the problems of growing up — truly growing up.

The Class was also very active in student government. Several members were officers on the Board of Control and leaders in organizations as the JSA and the Knights.

It cannot be said they did not accomplish anything. What they set out to do, they did, and as the seniors and Graduating Class of 1960, these once novice freshmen, began to realize they would soon assume an important position. They looked toward that responsibility with conviction and determination. Always enterprising, they continued their search for individuality and their struggle for acceptance and rightful place in society.

Look, Ma—No Hands!

The line-up.

Seniors work, but when they play—they play!

Senior boys always work strenuously.

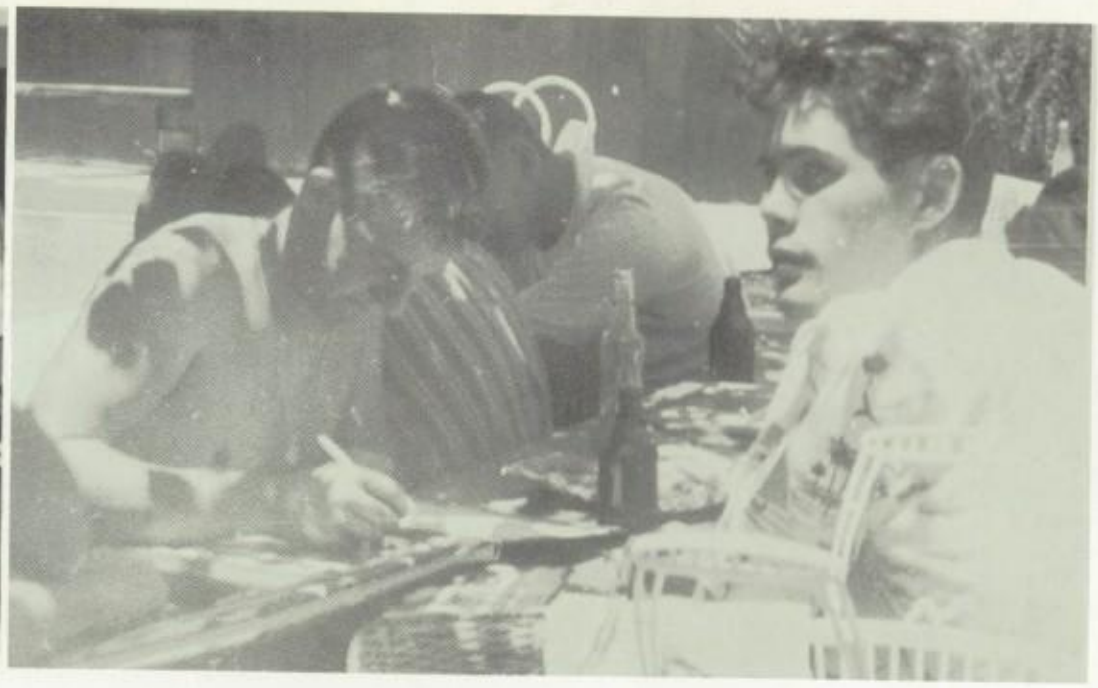
Wild rally!

Like, school's out. Let's go home!

Seniors on Campus

Graduation is an important milestone in the life of every student. It marks the culmination of years of studies and activities. It is a crossroad where ideas assume new meaning and dreams become reality. To the graduates of 1960 we hope these ideas and dreams will be fulfilled.

What's up? Seniors are always curious.



France in a trance.
